

Meet RYAN WALLACE, Sales Engineer

As a native Memphian and fellow technology enthusiast, I am excited about being a new member of the Sales Engineering Team at Phoenix.

After graduating from Houston High School, I attended the University of Tennessee. I returned to Memphis and received practical experience in marketing and advertising with Rehab Etc. Physical Therapy.

I am very active in the community being the head girls' volleyball coach at St. Agnes Academy and Memphis Juniors Volleyball Association.

I have always been fascinated with electronics, so much so I have put together my own media system to fuel my passion for movie viewing. I am very proud about this opportunity and look forward to working with this prestigious company.